SPEAKER BIO

Eric Naaman is a lifelong entrepreneur with an unconventional career path. In 2010, he acquired Damotech with a desire to grow an organization that would reflect his philosophy in terms of company culture and branding.

As president of Damotech, Eric has been responsible for the growth of the company's offerings and the hiring of exceptional employees that deliver an unparalleled customer experience, turning Damotech into the largest rack safety company in North America.

After studies in mechanical engineering, Eric followed his passion for photography by pursuing a career as an artist in commercial photography and communications. This led him to work with a variety of marquee clients such as Bombardier, Cirque du Soleil, General Motors, Home Depot, YUM Brands and L'Oréal.
